STRINGS and THINGS

Sue Pugmire: guitar , vocals
Stephanie Hunter: talented violinist
James Greenblatt: Guitarist extraordinaire, plus mandolin & vocals.

Strings and Things is led by well-known PN vocalist & guitarist Sue Pugmire. Starting off in rock bands, she developed a love for folk, acoustic music and jazz. "I love the stories encapsulated in folk songs- the window into history & past lives, experiences & beliefs."

James' roots are in American folk and blues but he also enjoys playing music across the spectrum including classical guitar, a bit of jazz, Celtic.

The music is intricate, the harmonies are strong, & there are some wonderful stories to be shared.

Acoustic Night is on Friday 25 October. 7:30pm at the Scottish Society Hall.
All welcome.

Optional theme is "Something Sunny". If you know something that fits the theme, great - but otherwise come prepared with anything you want to sing and join in. Or come to listen!

Our guest performers at LFMFC on Friday November 8th are Bob Cooper-Grundy and Kate Marshall. Bob and Kate are well known performers and you heard their music skills last month when they appeared with the backing band for Karen Clarke. But as our guest duo in November, Bob and Kate will sing their own repertoire with a very different flavour to the September club night band. Bob is a real deal blues man whose fingers do the talking on guitar, slide guitar, mandolin and banjo. with an upbeat, toe-tapping country rock and raunchy blues vibe.

Kate fires up the mix with commanding leads on violin, flute and accordion and shares the vocals.

If you can help with setting up the hall for club night, please be there on Friday at 4pm. (Tables and chairs to set out, kitchen to prepare, a few wall hangings to put up, front desk to set up, sound gear and stage. If a couple of people could assist, it becomes a speedy set-up session instead of a strain for just 2 people.
